

ABSTRACT

The invention relates to the use of metal gluconate salts as antimicrobial agents for the manufacture of substrates based on fibres, especially cellulosic fibres.

The invention further relates to substrates based on fibres, especially cellulosic fibres, comprising said metal salts as antimicrobial agents.